FUTURE ELBERTA: What's Your Vision?

The Elberta Village Planning Commission is asking for your input and ideas for an update to the Village Master Plan.

The Master Plan will address important questions about the direction of the community, and what residents and businesses hope for:

- What should Elberta look like?
- What services and amenities should be available?
- What kind of community do you want to live or do business in?
- What should we do about food trucks, short-term rentals, and year-round housing?

You're invited to attend the August 15 forum to talk about these questions and more with neighbors, business owners, and Village officials—and to learn about the results of the recent community survey.

Your ideas and input will be used to create a shared vision of what Elberta could become in the future, and to identify priority actions for the Village to take.
